Dear Marcus,

As you awaken to the sound of birds singing, a wonderful new adventure is about to begin. It is up to you to create today's story - just the way you want it to be. Do you wish for fun with friends, exciting experiences at school, learning new things? If you can imagine it, it can be! 😊

When you return home from school, you will have a special treat. Your great aunt Tessie is preparing fresh baked ham this morning just the way you like it. She has asked me to collect a piece for you.

I hope your day is as wonderful as you imagine it to be.

Love,

Mom
