

Backstory

And forsaking all others,
To love, honor, and obey,
Till death do us part,
As is my alpha duty.

One year away from its centennial, Omegiarchy is firm and unquestioned in its rule and social order. Yet, the Omegiarchy has always relied on a careful balance of the Remaining Nations. In a world of rigid politics and social order, two very different nations share a border and, at times, interests. Balance takes quite a bit of work...

Setting

This three-day event will bring us to the wedding of alpha Prince Lionel and Omega Commander Brax in 99 OA, a political marriage arranged between The Exalted Monarchy of Nubilus and The Reach. Through their story and those connected, we ask whether true love can exist in Omegiarchy and whose job is it to change the world?

Universe Rules

In any omegaverse project, each author uses a set of tropes and rules which benefit their story. As we are all crafting this story from multiple hands and angles, comprehensive Omegiarchy Bible and Timeline will be made available to the writers who join the project, which includes details on the following and so many more:

- ❖ Three second-sex designations exist: Alpha, Beta, and Omega

- ❖ Second-sex status takes priority over first-sex and gender presentation. An omega is an omega no matter their first-sex (male, female, or intersex) or gender.
- ❖ Biology:
 - Alphas knot.
 - Omegas can carry children.
 - Betas are unable to inseminate omegas.
 - Heats & Ruts exist by your own imagination.

All prior events and scripts are canon and writers are expected to work within these bounds.
Restriction breeds creativity!

Dates & Expectations

- ❖ Sign-Ups Close: August 14th, Midnight Eastern
- ❖ Event Begins: October 2nd
- ❖ Writer's Cafe: August 23rd, time TBD

Writers will post their scripts during the first weekend of October 2026. A schedule will be made for this, and a master list of scripts will be updated throughout the event week as they are posted. Writers must produce at least one script.

Given that this event celebrates Writers, we highly value the craft and process of writing. Therefore, a Writer's Cafe event will occur on August 23rd to workshop script ideas and generally discuss the writing for the project. Though optional to attend, these workshops help carry momentum throughout the project, aid those with writer's block, keep us all accountable, and are generally a blast.

Other Notes

- ❖ This is an event to highlight Writers, which means we are not coordinating fills of these scripts before or during the event. If you or a voice actor you know would like to fill one of these scripts, we ask that you wait to coordinate that until the event has begun and the scripts have a moment to breathe.
- ❖ You must have contributed your own writing to GWAG in some way at least once to sign up for this event. This could be posting a script offer, contributing a script for another collaboration project, or writing your own scripts for your audios.

- Those who commit to this event and then ghost or become otherwise uncooperative will have their participation noted by the GWAG mod team, which could impact future GWAG collaboration involvement. Read the dates above and ensure you can work with them before signing up.
- ❖ Organization and collaboration for this project will occur on a private Omegarchy Discord server. To join this event, you must have or create a Discord account.
- ❖ If you are unsure about any requirements, story elements, or details, contact one of the coordinators of this collaboration:
 - Maybe (u/butmaybeyes)
 - Muffin (u/FunSize4Audibles)
 - Viro (u/viroacnor)

If all of this sounds as exciting to you as it does to us, sign up here!
