

SL: Collaboration Opportunity

Dear Maria,

Your recent live with Kat about face yoga was like a feast of knowledge, leaving me absolutely stuffed!

As a fellow nutrition enthusiast, I came across your website from your Instagram and was impressed by your expertise in the field.

Think of me as the secret ingredient to your marketing recipe, a master at crafting engaging and humorous emails that keep subscribers coming back for more.

My approach is like a chef's knife, slicing through the clutter and getting straight to the heart of what makes your brand special.

With my assistance, you can turn your email marketing into a tantalizing feast that leaves your subscribers salivating.

So if you're ready to turn up the heat and take your marketing to the next level, I'm your guy.

Let's get cookin'!

Best,
Zabari Phillip

P.S. If you're curious about my recipe for email success, I'd be happy to share some of my previous work. Think of it as a taste test for your taste buds!

Sup G <@01GHHZJQR CGN6J7EQG9FH89AM> I am currently having problems with creating an outreach avatar. For example, I am currently prospecting in executive coaching, so I went to google and typed in "How to grow online coaching niche" it did not produce results, sure there were a few ads and promotions but none with my online coaches sharing their pains and desires. I tried changing up the search term for google but was unsuccessful as well. I tried all other social platforms such as Facebook, I
