

Conspiracy to Wrongfully Arrest Disabled Vet, Mark Bowles

~ Lewis and Bowles ~

+Diana Beth and friends, I'm going to fix this at 10am EDT on July 4, but please note that under REFERENCES for the "Mark Bowles Legal Defense Fund," the first link was redirected away from Mark's article in the "Dog Justice for Mentally Ill" blog. SOPA was a congressional bill allowing the government to censor us. Americans rejected it, and Congress never dared vote about the Nazi bill. They just do it any damn way to me and to other human rights advocates - these vengeful librarians. Check it out Indiegogo. Do you think they slipped an agent in with the crowd sourcing staff? See this, +Dr. MustafaAnsari and +Nancy Lockhart ? This is an example of the crimes they do to jail a sick, innocent U.S. veteran on the eve of a national holiday.

I want two statements affirming that the link is redirected before I fix it. The bible says, "Out of the mouth of two or three witnesses shall a matter be established." I already have video evidence, but if you could point your cellphone at the screen when the first url under the title "References" opens the wrong document, that would also help. If Mark is sentenced, we will also take his case before the World Court, where we need evidence and witness statements about the censorship to prove this is a prison profiteering scheme. Thanks.

NOTE TO VENGEFUL LIBRARIANS: I always check my links repeatedly. You should know that, you know so damn much.

Another issue is that Paragraph 10 is INVISIBLE to anyone other than Mary Neal, who published the fundraiser. I just talked to Diana, Mark's mom, and she confirmed that there is no Paragraph 10 on her view. Don't try to fix it now, librarians. She filmed it. I discovered years ago that these stalkers know technology but have NO COMMON SENSE. How rational was it to give Mark's mom the "official public view of the fundraiser" instead of the fraud that I see on my own computer, and she is a team member? That was stupid.

I suppose the librarians are drinking already because tomorrow is a holiday. For some reason, the cyber stalkers don't want people to have access to photographs of Mark as a healthy-looking young college student before he got his brains bashed by an inmate intent on raping him in Anoka County Jail - an assault that could/should have been prevented because Mark reported the guy's first assault when he stuck his hand in Mark's pants between his buttocks and promised he was going to "have that." The jail's negligence, the hospital's negligence, and the judge's corrupt court are all grounds for a lawsuit, and this cyber stalking proves a racketeering conspiracy. They will be sued no matter what they do to fix this stuff up and hide it from the public.

The ironic thing is that Mark Bowles just called his mom and asked her not to forget to put the flag out because tomorrow is Independence Day - patriotic to the end no matter how he's treated. May God bless America with justice for all - some day.

Paragraph 10-12 says the following on my fraudulent view:

10. Nine(9) numbered paragraphs appear before this point. Note: This writer tried to add a photo of Mark Bowles before he received the traumatic head injury in Anoka County Jail when resisting rape but had trouble sharing the picture. See such photographs at the first link below in the "Dog Justice for Mentally Ill" article, where you can also access another radio interview with Mark's mother, Diana Sprouse.

The link to the fundraiser for Mark's appeal should be at the link below, unless the vengeful librarians redirected it. The things these people do to Americans to get them imprisoned for profits.

In Georgia, black stalkers drive white cars by my house continuously, sometimes making the circle five times during a single episode. These black people are so happy with their white cars and trucks, probably symbolizing a hate group, and they're too stupid to know or care about it. They are HAPPY to help masta terrorize my family for asking about Larry Neal, a black man who was lynched under secret arrest in Memphis Shelby County Jail in 2003. We are also targets because of my advocacy for other mentally challenged and physically handicapped people like Mark Bowles, people who are prison-bound to enrich prison investors. It is so unpleasant being the heroine in a suspense thriller, apparently co-starring the government. Pray for me (Prov. 31:8-9).+The White House +Veterans United +Indiegogo #NSA
