

Disability Justice in Organizing Spaces (2-Part Series)

Workshop Recordings

These recordings capture a 2-part Disability Justice workshop from July, 2024. They were designed for and offered with love to our community in Chicago doing liberatory work. The teachings and conversation here intend to bring a deeper grounding in accessibility, Disability Justice & cross-movement solidarity to the events, protests, meetings, and workshops that individuals and groups organize. Sessions were envisioned and organized collaboratively by c kaufman, Rise, & Jade T Perry. Facilitators and accessibility measures were paid for with funding from the Disability Project, housed at the Transgender Law Center.

Feel free to share with friends and comrades (bit.ly/dj4organizers). If you work at an organization with any type of budget, consider organizing a training/workshop using these videos and booking Rise and or Jade T Perry to come do a talk back or follow up! Another option could be hosting a ticketed screening and donating all the proceeds to the facilitators.

Part 1 Workshop

Session 1 Thursday, July 18, Led by Rise. This first session included an introduction to Disability Justice, discussing the history of DJ, why we do this work, and how integral it is to our work as organizers. Please support Rise's work by visiting www.riotousroots.com
