

ES News & Notes

1 April

Even at our assemblies, students have an opportunity to demonstrate their leadership and language skills. Great job grade 2 MCs!

NEWS

Dear TCIS Community,

Here are ES highlights from last week and upcoming activities for this week...

Events & Activities: Awards Assembly

Thank you to our many parents who joined us for our assembly last Tuesday. This month we had special awards for the students who have been volunteering in the library. We also had performances by the grade 1 and PK3 students. Thank you to these classes and their teachers for all the effort that made this assembly so fun!

Teaching and Learning: PTCs

As I walked through the classes last week, I had the pleasure of seeing many students enjoying their morning meeting time. This is a great way to start the day. It gives students an opportunity to practice their English skills, but in a safe and fun way. By building this community, they are more confident to use their language skills during more rigorous academic activities. In education, this is what we call scaffolding, or simply put, the building blocks for success. New skills are developed one small step at a time.

Campus & Community: Student Teachers

On Friday we said goodbye to our student teachers. They had been here for three weeks as part of their teaching abroad course. We look forward to hosting more student teachers in the future. (Right: Student teacher Nisha helping in G3).

Have a great week!

Dr. Betsy
