Office: N602-B, 6th Floor, SBS Building, Economics Department

Course Description:

Introduction to the basic economic concepts used in sustainability analysis. Students will learn the basic concepts and how to apply them in various contexts. Topics include the analysis of situations in which the behavior of individuals indirectly affects the well-being of others, strategic behavior and the environment, and the use of market-oriented policies to help in the stewardship of the environment. Formerly offered as SBC 206; not for credit in addition to SBC 206.

Course Topics:

Supply and Demand in Sustainability, Economic Efficiency, Cost Benefit Analysis, Public Goods, Population, Food, Water, Economic Growth, Natural Resources, Resource Allocation, Energy, Ecosystem Management, Pollution, Metals & Rare Earth Metals, Government Agencies, Global Climate Policy, Electricity, Clean Energy, Introductory Data Analysis

Course Learning Objectives

Economics and Sustainability provides a broad overview to sustainability and climate policies, both in the U.S. and abroad, and explores the role that economic theory plays in climate change action.

Students will be introduced to several basic theoretical tools used in economics to better understand market failures and policy solutions in climate and sustainability topics.

Textbook(s) and Course Materials:

Roach, Brian and Harris, Johnathan. Environmental And Natural Resource Economics – A Contemporary Approach. 4th or 5th Edition. ISBN: 9780367531386

R (Programming Language):

Instructions to download R will be provided in class. R is also accessible via Stony Brook's Virtual SINC site.

Grading:

Assessment	Description	% of Overall Grade
Attendance	10 randomly taken attendance days.	10
News Article Summaries	~10 write ups of uploaded news articles. Due before Friday recitation.	20
Homework	~ 5 assignments	15
Midterm	Open book midterm	25
Final	Open book final	30

Attendance: Attendance will be taken at the end of class on 10 randomly chosen days throughout the semester. To receive the full 10% attendance grade, students must be present for at least 7 of these days. However, attending all classes is strongly encouraged. Absences excused by the University will neither positively nor negatively impact a student's attendance grade. Attendance days will be announced at the beginning of class. If a student needs to leave before the end of class, they may notify me to receive credit for attending.

News Article Summaries: To complete each news article summary, students will need to read the uploaded news articles available on Blackboard. For each article, students should write a 3-4 sentence summary. Students should create a free SBU New York Times Account using their stony brook email using this link, as some articles are behind their paywall. Students will upload their summaries as a PDF or Word doc to Brightspace. Students should submit their own unique summary.

Below are some prompts to guide students in their writing:

1. Summary and Analysis: Summarize the main points of the article. What is the central issue, and why is it significant? Provide your economic analysis and insights on the issue.
2. Connection to Course Material: How does the article relate to what we've discussed in class? Provide specific examples and explain the connections to course topics.
3. Critical Questions: What questions arose for you after reading the article? What additional information would help you understand the topic better?
4. Impact and Implications: Discuss the potential effects of the events or issues covered in the article. How might they impact various stakeholders (e.g., individuals, communities, countries)?
5. Policy Implications: What are the policy implications of the issue discussed in the article? What policies should be implemented or changed in response to the issue?

Homework: Each homework assignment will comprise of questions related to the material covered in lectures and recitations. They will be in short answer form that will be a mix of understanding the workings of economic sustainability and understanding how to apply economic analysis. When necessary, students should utilize the lecture notes and textbook while completing these assignments.

Students are allowed to work with one other person. However, each student's submission must be unique and should not look the same as the other persons. If you work with someone, put their name at the top of the submission as well.

All assignments are due on the posted dates before class at 8:15AM EST. The deadlines for assignments are strictly enforced. To avoid any last minute technical problems, it is recommended that students complete the assignments with some time to spare. Late assignments will not be accepted.

Solutions: Solutions to each assignment will be discussed in recitation on the due date. Solutions to the midterm and final will be discussed in recitation.

Open Book Policy: For both the midterm and final, a double-sided sheet of 8.5 in x 11 in printer paper will be allowed to be used during the exam. Electronic devices will not be allowed to be used during the exam.

Midterm Exam: The midterm exam will be tentatively scheduled for Wednesday October 9th in class. Any changes will be communicated during the semester ahead of time.

Final Exam: The final exam will be on December 18th from 8-10AM, as per the University's final exam schedule.

Final Grades:

A	A-	B+	B	B-	C+	C	C-	D+	D	F
100-93	92-90	89-87	86-83	82-80	79-77	76-73	72-70	69-67	66-60	Below 60

Tips on How to Be Successful in this Class:

- Attend all lectures and recitations.
- Identify anything you may not understand from lectures, recitations, and homework. Make it a daily/weekly habit to ensure you have seen everything posted to help you succeed in this class.
- Connect with others. Try forming an online study group and meet on a weekly basis for study and peer support.
- Do not be afraid to ask questions. If you have questions or are struggling with a topic, re-read class notes, read through the textbook, ask questions during recitations, reach out to other students, or contact your instructor.

Academic Integrity Statement:

Each student must pursue his or her academic goals honestly and be personally accountable for all submitted work. Representing another person's work as your own is always wrong. Faculty is required to report any suspected instances of academic dishonesty to the Academic Judiciary. Faculty in the Health Sciences Center (School of Health Technology & Management, Nursing, Social Welfare, Dental Medicine) and School of Medicine are required to follow their school-specific procedures. For more comprehensive information on academic integrity, including categories of academic dishonesty please refer to the academic judiciary website at http://www.stonybrook.edu/commcms/academic\_integrity/index.html

Important Note: Any form of academic dishonesty, including cheating and plagiarism, will be reported to the Academic Judiciary.

Critical Incident Management:

Stony Brook University expects students to respect the rights, privileges, and property of other people. Faculty are required to report to the Office of University Community Standards any disruptive behavior that interrupts their ability to teach, compromises the safety of the learning environment, or inhibits students' ability to learn. Faculty in the HSC Schools and the School of Medicine are required to follow their school-specific procedures. Further information about most academic matters can be found in the Undergraduate Bulletin, the Undergraduate Class Schedule, and the Faculty-Employee Handbook.

Course Policies:

Syllabus Note: Please note that this syllabus is subject to change at any time. Any modifications will be communicated promptly to ensure that all students are informed and can adjust accordingly.

Understand When You May Drop This Course:

If you need to drop or withdraw from the course, it is your responsibility to be aware of the tuition liability deadlines listed on the registrar's Academic Calendar. Before making the decision to drop/withdraw you may want to [contact me or] refer to the University's policies:

- Undergraduate Course Load and Course Withdrawal Policy
