4. Integrity- One thing people want from one another, however it's not always easy to maintain trust especially when the relationship is broken. Must be patient!!!

How do I restore my Marriage?

Step 1.

Forgiveness is the position and privilege that we have in Christ, and because of that forgiveness we are COMMANDED to forgive others.

Have you ever heard you can't use what you don't know? To learn God model for marriage, we must look into God's word. (Nothing else should get the last word. Not your feeling, emotions but God's word.

You must understand sin-God ordained the First marriage in the Garden of Eden between Adam and Eve. When SIN entered that perfect union was destroyed. (Gen 3:16, 1 Cor 11:3)

Does this apply today? Yes

God model of Marriage works, but it will take commitment on the part of both parties to create a relationship with balance of each individual being obedient to God and walking in fellowship with the Lord. It doesn't happen overnight.

Conclusion: If a marriage or relationship has broken down there are issues that need to be forgiven and put behind in order to move forward. And that's a choice and commitment. Unwillingness on the part of either party will mean no restoration. The issue is each individual responsible before the Lord and then coming together before the Lord. Walking in forgiveness and fellowship is a great place to start to put the pieces back together again.
