How to protect your child from gender brainwashing

Your daughter doesn't identify herself as a girl anymore.

Excavators, cars, and craft are what interests her now.

I mean, it's okay to let your daughter play with cars I see no problem with that.

But what is when her first date will be another girl?

Imagine your little sweet daughter is worried day by day. Because she doesn't know how she should identify herself.

She can be a girl, but also a boy, or even a bigender.

It's "her" decision. Although she got influenced by school teachers who brainwash our children like trained soldiers

And the ONLY reason this happened is that she learned that's okay when she doesn't want to be a girl anymore.

That she can decide how she feels to be and what to be.

8-Year-Old Girls Asks Daddy for Gender OP

My eyes became rigid while my face turned red and indescribable rage flowed through my veins.

Lis, my little girl asked me if I can buy her a "gender operation" because she wants to be a boy now.

"Mrs. Kovalski said I can be whatever I feel I am. I can be a boy, a girl, and even both if I want."

My hot mug full of coffee slipped through my sweaty hands and shattered on the ground.

"This is what they teach you in school?" I asked her.

I was speechless.

My little sweet sunshine who plays with her Barbies in the afternoon wants to be a boy now?!

I was in a rage and hurried to go to school as soon as possible to talk to Mrs. Kovalski.

Arriving at the school and searching for the person responsible, I saw something strange. Little LGTB+ flags hung everywhere on the walls of the school corridors.

I was finally talking to Mrs. Kovalski. She explained it is now in the curriculum to inform the kids about genderism.

Kids can decide on their own what type of pronoun they want to use.

"It's not written in the books that a little girl has to identify herself as a girl if she doesn't want to."

With an increased level of anger, I had since the talk to my little girl I left the school.

It was clear I have to protect my children on my own from the gender fake brainwashing.

<...> was a great help on my journey against the bs our kids are infected with nowadays.
