Hi xxx,

Thanks for registering and sending along your username. I've attached a PDF guide to help you get started that explains a bit how the Mozilla Community works and walks you through the resources we have.

I have sent a welcome message to the group introducing you as a new contributor here:
https://support.mozilla.org/en-US/forums/contributors/708098?last=44706

I've also added you to the [forum helpers/ localizers/ KB editors] group here:
[link]

You will also be assigned a buddy from one of our older and experienced contributors. He/she will help you with your first contributions and give you some tips and tricks on how things work!

Welcome again and thank you, I'm always available if you have any questions at all.

Have fun!

Madalina
