2. Golf N Golf Quick Verdict

A dependable, easy-access 27-hole option in Huay Yai, popular with Pattaya's expat community for good reason: three distinct nines (Mountain, Lake, Ocean), reasonable green fees, and a view of a laser-carved Buddha image on the Mountain nine that visitors don't forget. Not a championship test, but a genuinely enjoyable day of golf for players of most abilities.

4. Overview

Phoenix Gold opened in 1993 as a Dennis Griffiths design set on wooded, rolling terrain in Huay Yai, a short drive south of central Pattaya. The course is laid out across three nines — Mountain, Lake, and Ocean — each with its own character: the Mountain nine climbs through jungle-clad hills with a view of a laser-carved Buddha image on a nearby rock face, the Lake nine winds around a series of small ponds, and the Ocean nine (despite the name, no water is actually in play) closes with a hole at the course's highest point, looking out over the Gulf of Thailand and Pattaya's skyline.

New ownership took over the property in 2013 and invested significantly in upgrades, including a comprehensive Ocean nine renovation beginning in 2014 under designer Pirapon Namatra. The course has hosted several professional and corporate events over the years, including the 2015 All Thailand Golf Championship, and remains a long-standing favorite among Pattaya's expat golfing community for its easy access and reasonable pricing.

5. Why Play This Course?

Phoenix Gold offers exactly what many Pattaya golfers are looking for: an easy-access, well-maintained 27-hole course with three genuinely different nines to rotate through, at a friendlier price point than the region's championship courses. It's forgiving enough for higher handicappers to enjoy, scenic enough (that Buddha Mountain view) to be memorable, and close enough to the city that it's an easy addition to any Pattaya itinerary.

6. Course Highlights

- Three distinct nines — Mountain, Lake, and Ocean, each with a different feel
- Buddha Mountain view — a laser-carved Buddha image visible from the Mountain nine
- Renovated Ocean nine — refreshed from 2014 under designer Pirapon Namatra
- Signature 9th hole — a 493-yard par-5 with sea and mountain views from the tee
- Easy access — one of the more convenient 27-hole options near central Pattaya

9. James' Recommendation

"Phoenix Gold is a course I recommend to groups who just want a relaxed, enjoyable day without the pressure of a championship layout. The Mountain nine's Buddha view always gets a phone out for a photo, and with three nines to mix and match, it never feels repetitive even on a return visit."

10. Golf N Golf Recommendation

Works well as a relaxed middle-trip round, paired with a tougher championship course like Laem Chabang or Chee Chan on either side. A solid choice for corporate groups or mixed-handicap parties who want everyone to enjoy the day equally.

12. Frequently Asked Questions

How far is Phoenix Gold from central Pattaya?

About 20–30 minutes by car, in the Huay Yai area south of the city.

Is this course suitable for beginners?

Yes — Phoenix Gold is one of the more forgiving courses in the Pattaya area, with gently contoured fairways and shallow bunkers that suit golfers of most abilities.

When is the best season to play?

Year-round, with cooler months (November–February) offering the most comfortable conditions on the exposed Ocean nine.

Can Golf N Golf arrange transport to Phoenix Gold?

Yes — Golf N Golf arranges transport to every course we cover, anywhere in Thailand, and can also organize activities for non-golfers in your group. Just share your hotel and tee time with James.

Is this a good course for non-golfers to visit?

The clubhouse restaurant serves Thai and European food and is a comfortable place to wait, though there's no dedicated non-golfer program on-site.

13. Planning Your Golf Holiday

3-Day Itinerary: Day 1 — Phoenix Gold for an easy start. Day 2 — Laem Chabang for more of a test. Day 3 — Chee Chan for the scenic finish.

5-Day Itinerary: Add Siam Country Club Old Course and Waterside for a full mix of value, championship pedigree, and modern design.

Sightseeing: The Buddha mountain visible from the course is worth visiting up close on a rest day, along with nearby Nong Nooch Tropical Garden.
