

SL:

Good day Lauren,

I saw your instagram post last night on “inner Dimension” account

And came up with a better caption for your (Beginner’s Collection series), to resonate a deeper connection with your target audience

The reason I did it is because...

I want to encourage your audience to take their first step toward a better life with your program and also promote it in the long run.

You guys put effort into bettering life, so I put a little effort to help you promote your program

Below is a sample of my work I wrote to help you connect to your audience on a deeper level.

Let me know what you think ?

Best,
Chung

See it for yourself....
