HSO Subject Line: I quit my job to learn this and it paid off more than they expected...

I was stuck, lost, scared, and confused

I had a boss with unrealistic expectations for me and my fellow employees to follow

I couldn't work in a job where I was stuck, almost forced to serve someone who believed themselves better than me

I had dreams and ambitions.

I would see on social media posts, news articles, and even in stores magazines, pictures of famous self-made millionaires

"How can I get there? How can I do that" I thought to myself

I tried reaching out to whomever would answer my call but got nowhere

That is when I found the answer, the tool, the key was mine and the secret has been unmasked to me

"Who needs to work for someone to be truly successful?" I thought to myself

I can tell you from experience, YOU do not

I immediately left my job, walking out the door my boss said, "It'll never work. It's just a scam. You need someone like me to help you be successful."

F*ck that nonsense

The tool is within your grasp, take advantage of it like I did, proving them all wrong.

Please before someone takes it from you, or it's too late and you're more stuck than I was

Now say it with me, and go get the tool for yourself... F*CK JOBS

Subject Line: I refused to stay broke

I know those of you who may be broke are sitting there not wanting to stay broke

I was the same

And just like you, I decided to do something about it

I used to work as a painter making $12/hr. Coming home to my wife with an empty pocket, and nothing to show that I am the man I promised to be

Is that life worth it?

How can I come home to my wife and expect her to see me as a man deserving of respect?

She couldn't, and I know those of you reading that have a family are feeling the guilt of not making enough

The feeling of failing those you love. That was me

But how did I overcome this obstacle?

How did I go from a broke man to a successful one?

Well I can tell you the key is focus, but the problem is staying focused.

You have taken the correct first steps in learning this art.
