Dud Text: you place a piece into your mouth but nothing happens, they must've sold you a factory dud

Consumption Text: you pop a wafer into your mouth, the sweet watermelon creme preparing you for the transformations soon to come

Remove fur:

You touch your fur only to pluck out a small clump, many more clumps soon fall off(player skin is now skin)

Change scales to chitin:

You feel your scales shifting and merging together until many huge plates comprise your body(you now have chitinous skin)

Change eyes to Dragonfly eyes:

You feel a weak burning sensation occurring in your eyes, after rubbing them for a hot minute you notice the whiteness of your sclera fade into black, cracks forming in them that leave them looking geometrically hexagonal(you now have insectoid compound Dragonfly eyes)

Remove horn(s):

There's a sucking feeling on the top of your head, as it draws its extra appendages inward. By the time it's done, your (horn) is gone.

Gain Stonefly arms:

Starting at your fingertips, you feel your skin tightening, slowly shaping into a smooth, (TF color) expanse. The chitinous plates expand to cover the whole of your hand, forming joints to allow the hardening flesh to allow you movement. (You now have chitin-armored arms.)

Gain Stonefly Legs:

You're dumped on your ass when your legs turn to jelly, going numb as they start to change. A (TF color)encasement forms around the tip, then divides into an armored encasement for your toes. Each tiny digit gleams shiny (TF color), covered in chitinous armor. Maneuverable joints appear wherever you would need to bend or flex. Then, the (TF color)ness travels up like a wave of slippery paint. Every inch of your body below the thigh is swiftly encased in the gleaming, (tf color)armor, and there, the transformation stops. While you take a few experimental steps to get used to your new armor-like legs(You now have Stonefly legs)

Gain “Thermal Claret” perk:

A cold shiver runs through you, but your pulse remains steady as your body begins to synthesize natural antifreeze compounds. Like a real winter stonefly, you can now endure sub-zero exposure without the risk of ice crystals damaging your cells.

(Perk Gained: Thermal Claret) - Your body produces natural antifreeze to survive harsh winter or cold weather.)

Note: Perk requires having the Chitin skin type and is lost if skin type is removed/changed

Appearance blurbs:

Eyes:

Your eyes are entirely black, with a honeycomb pattern making them look incredibly exotic and efficient

Arms:

Shining (Scale color) exoskeleton covers your arms from the biceps down, resembling a pair of long (Scale color)gloves from a distance.

Wings:

giant dragonfly wings hang from your shoulders. At a whim, you could twist them into a whirring rhythm fast enough to lift you off the ground and allow you to fly.

Legs:

Your legs are covered in a reflective (TF color), insectile carapace up to your mid-thigh, looking more like a pair of ‘fuck-me-boots’ than exoskeleton.
