Procedures

Initial Contact

- For the most part, it is crucial for the client to include as much information in the initial contact as possible. During Commission openings, there will almost always be a form included for the client to fill out and send to the artist.

Payment

- Upon confirmation of the finalized price between the artist and client, the artist will send a paypal invoice to the client. Once the client has paid, the work begins!

Sketching.

- After payment is received, the next step is the sketch. The artist will always confirm a final sketch with the client, unless otherwise stated in a commission journal, before moving onto the next step.
- Clients are allowed one free complete revision of a sketch, and can ask for smaller changes several times. It is recommended, however, to ask for as many changes as possible the first time. Too many changes will result in revision fees.

Finalizing

- Once a sketch has been confirmed, the artist will then move forward on finalizing the picture. During this step, the artist may or may not make contact with the client depending on the commission and complexity.
- Once the artist is finished with the picture, the final image will be provided to the client. The client will thereafter be free to use and display the picture in accordance with the usage stated at the end of the TOS.
- No refunds are available after an image has been finalized.
