

Using a free sexting website is as simple as joining, verifying your email and start sexting with other sexy horny folks in minutes! Sending and receiving nudes is super popular now that virtually everybody has a cell phone and can snap a few nudes in no time.

But a word of caution - be careful who you send those juicy texts to! Always, and I mean always double check who you are sending these to, check it is exactly the person you want them to be! If you send a dick pic to let's say your boss or your mom - this is TROUBLE big time. So just be smart and avoid silly mistakes.

You write something over the top kinky and by some absolute lapse of the brain, you end up sending it to your mother. It's hilariously tragic. The utter shame of it. How can such blunders be avoided?

To start with, if you're going to write kinky texts messages, don't put it in BBM or some other text format where pressing the wrong key can have your message sent out to an entire contact list in an instant. Sexts need to be edited again and again anyway, so I suggest starting it as a memo before you send. That may sound like a lot of work for mere phone flirting, but that's the surest way to write exactly what you want without accidentally sending out embarrassing messages to the wrong people, like the boss. Then just copy and paste that into a text, and check who you're sending it to at least four times. Now if it's a good sext then you can use it again and again. A little excessive perhaps, but after hearing the tale of a sexter who mistakenly wrote, "I'm going to explode your c" to his mother, (Not the most romantic sext) I think six times might be even better. The same can be said for social networks too—always be sure you don't unintentionally Twitter or Facebook what you meant to text, and if you've ever got that one wrong, remove said apps from your phone permanently!
