

The Legacy Project Archive

foolsFURY Theater Company

FoolsFURY is an important reason why the model of ensemble theater is alive and well – and growing – in the Bay Area and nationally.

The Legacy Project will preserve the company's work and provide new access to foolsFURY's experience through the creation of a digital archive. The archive includes:

- Video recordings of fully produced shows
- Selected video recordings from seven FURY Factory festivals
- Selected presentation videos and documentation from two BUILD digital conferences
- Some videos from rehearsals and devising processes
- Oral Histories of company members and key stakeholders
- Some operational documentation
- A descriptive inventory and index

As of January 2022 we are still searching for a home for the archive. We are speaking to the Museum of Performance + Design and also considering uploading directly to the Internet Archive.

The Oral Histories conducted under the Legacy Project will provide an intimate look at the stories of about 30 key stakeholders and company members. Users of the archive will be able to learn from the experience of creators, directors, company members, board members, donors, designers, consultants, interns, instructors, collaborators, and more. Each hour-long interview will be accompanied by an auto-transcript and brief notes on topics..
