

Rachel Chall

Where do you live?	Detroit, MI, USA
Where do you work?	Teach for America - Detroit
What does your job entail?	Instructional Leadership Coach. I coach first and second year secondary ELA and humanities teachers in both the public and charter districts all across the city!
What do you enjoy most about your work?	I love working with new teachers who are so hungry to make their teaching better and who care about developing the whole child while pursuing ambitious outcomes for their students! The biggest reward is seeing teachers who struggle at first, finish the year strong! It makes it worth it to see the academic gains and relationships teachers create with their students with my help!
Where were you born?	Tacoma, Washington
What three words best describe you?	Reflective, Courageous, Driven
What place feels like home?	Early morning on my back porch in Detroit, with a cup of coffee and my pup Murphy running around in the backyard
If you could be any fictional character, who would you be?	Jo March from Little Women Any of the female characters from Game of Thrones (Sansa, Arya, Brienne, Dany)
What's the last good book you read?	I just finished "The Poisonwood Bible" by Barbary Kingsolver. It was an epic tale of an American missionary family that moves to the Congo in the 1960S
When you were 8, what did you want to be when you grew up?	An archeologist
What's the last concert you went to?	John Mayer
What do you wish you	Singing and dancing. My dream would be to be on Broadway!

USTAHIMILIVU

Dadas

An Educators' Exchange

were really good at?
What was the last show you binge watched?	Dead to Me
What's your favorite thing to do on a Saturday morning?	Go for an early morning workout, come home to have a cup of coffee on my back porch, make myself breakfast, enjoy the quiet of the morning
What's one habit that you're proud to have changed?	Making excuses for not working out after work. I've completely changed my routine to work out in the morning before work and I have no excuses.
What's one food that you can't stand?	Tuna, cooked spinach
What's a song or album that you've played more times than you're willing to confess?	The Hamilton Soundtrack
Do you believe in astrology? And if so, does your sign fit you?	Yes, I'm a Libra and I feel it fits me. But I also believe in personality tests for Myers-Briggs I'm an ISFJ, for enneagram I'm a 2 wing 1.
Where would you go for a dream vacation?	I'm a sucker for mountains and water. I would love to go to Argentina, Patagonia, and South Africa.
What mythical creature would you like to bring to life?	Pegasus - flying horses would be beautiful

SOCIAL MEDIA

If you use social media and would like to connect with other dadas, share your info:

Instagram: @rachallxo

Facebook: facebook.com/rachall

Twitter: NA