

Wine Down

California has some of the best wine regions in the country, some would say in the world. Spend your week visiting wineries in 4 distinct areas.

Leave San Diego and head out to the trendy Temecula Valley for a weekend of wining and dining! You will have so many wineries to choose from, but also this region is known for Balloon Rides, so if this has been on your bucket list, you're in luck. Take your time enjoying the downtown area and relaxing in a local spa!

Sunday afternoon, point your car in the direction of Santa Barbara because Monday morning you'll board the Wine Shuttle for a day of wine tasting! Spend a few days exploring the charming coastal town of Santa Barbara. Food, wine, sea air... Santa Barbara has it all and it's one of the most picturesque towns in all of California!

From here you have 2 options - you could return your car to LA or point your car north and head for the great wine region, The Napa Valley. Either way, you'll spend 3 amazing days in the Napa Valley - exploring towns like Yountville, Healdsburg and Oakville and all of the amazing wineries, tasting rooms, restaurants and small groceries that this area is famous for. Whether you choose an organized tour or go it on your own, whether you choose to visit familiar wineries or try new ones - you will have an amazing 3 days here.

Before heading back to San Francisco, no visit to the wine country would be complete without stopping in neighboring Sonoma for one last hurrah!
