

Aspiring PIs Workshop

October 30, 1:30pm – 3pm

Organizer: Yash Chitalia, University of Louisville, yash.chitalia@louisville.edu

Abstract: This workshop will address important proposal crafting strategies leading to successful CAREER or regular proposals for the FRR program. It is especially focused on topics relevant to Aspiring PIs that have never had successful proposals funded to date. Participants are encouraged to ask relevant questions regarding proposals submitted to the NSF FRR program. Aspiring PIs are expected to attend this workshop either on Day 1 or on Day 2 of the conference.

Agenda

1:30 - 1:35

Yash Chitalia, University of Louisville

PM Robotics PD Introductions

1:35 - 1:45

Jordan Berg, National Science Foundation

NSF 101

1:45 - 1:55

Veronica Newhart, National Science Foundation

Introduction to NSF FRR

1:55 - 2:10

Harish Ravichandar, Georgia Institute of Technology

CAREER Awardee Talk

2:10 - 2:25

Biyun Xie, University of Kentucky

FRR Unsolicited Awardee Talk

2:25 – 3:00

Huddles with PDs and Awardees Drs. Berg, Newhart, Ravichandar and Xie

FRR Awardee Talk