

Graphic Novel Project

Pixton + Google Slides

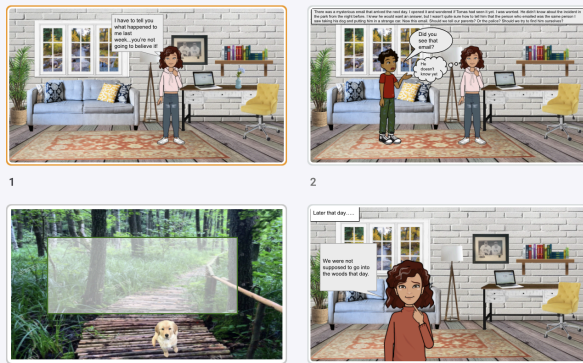

Storyboard your writing.

1. Break apart your story into scenes... or in this case slides. Consider:
 - a. What parts of the story do you want to chunk together?
 - b. How can you keep it from being too many slides or too few slides?
 - c. Leave comments to yourself on your writing piece about images or backgrounds you are thinking of as you edit.

Sample rough draft

Create your slides

Sample Story on slides

1. Start by copying and pasting the divided story into the speaker notes of a Google Presentation.
2. Work on the settings design and layout for each slide, adding in the text as internal or external dialogue.
3. Be sure to include a cover, title page with your name. Feel free to include any extra text features you would like.
4. Watch this to learn how to turn in a published link.

Sharefest

Turn in your published link HERE
And enter this code:

Video tutorial

View your classmates books HERE

You can add a Wakelet here for students to turn their work in and to share with those outside the classroom when complete.

Sample Stories