

Privacy Policy

This privacy policy has been developed to inform us how we collect, store, use and protect information when providing services to you. Please read the Privacy Policy carefully to get a clear understanding of how we collect, use, protect or otherwise process your personally identifiable information in accordance with our website.

Information We May Collect

Information you provide directly to us may be collected:

- Your device information;
- Your physical location;
- Cookies and other technologies;
- Your activities through our gaming applications or third-party applications;
- Any other information included in your application, social network or other online profile.

How do we use your information?

The information we collect from you is mainly for you to better use our products, but there are also some other uses, including:

- Optimize and improve your gaming experience and our services;
- Allow you to establish a gaming account and make payments for our products;
- Communicate with you;
- Marketing research;
- To process your transactions efficiently;
- To inform you about our latest updates, current sales and new features;
- Providing support and services for your issues;
- Management services;
- Personalized user experience;
- Ensure the technical functionality and security of the Services;
- To protect our rights and property.

How do we disclose your information?

We take the information we collect from you very seriously, and we do not sell, rent, lease, or otherwise disclose your data to any third-party parties, except as otherwise described below.

Your personal information may be disclosed through the following:

- Service providers such as internet providers, cloud storage providers and payment processors;
- When our services and your personal data are involved in a crime;
- When it comes to our services and the rights of other third parties;

Safety

We truly value your personal data and use appropriate measures to protect the security of all information. While we take precautions to prevent possible security breaches, no network or internet transmission of our services or our customer databases and records is completely secure. We cannot guarantee that unauthorized access, hacking, data loss or other breach will never occur, nor can we guarantee the security of your information while it is transmitted to our Services. Any transmission is at your own risk. If you have any questions about the security of our website, please let us know.

Our policy towards children

Most of our websites and games are not intended for children under the age of 13, and we do not knowingly collect any personal information from children under the age of 13. Children under the age of 13 are not permitted to use these Sites or Games at any time. If we learn that we have inadvertently collected personal information from a child under 13, we will take reasonable steps to promptly delete that information from our records.

Changes to our Privacy Policy

If we decide to make significant changes to our Privacy Policy, we will notify you and other players via a notification. We can supplement this process by posting notices on game blogs, social networking pages and other websites. You should check this privacy page regularly for updates.

Modifying and Deleting Your Messages

If you would like to review, update, correct or delete information that BRAVE has about you or have other questions, you can refer to the GDPR page and contact us. If you completely delete all of these messages, your account may be deactivated. If you would like us to delete your record from our systems, please contact us and we will do our best to accommodate your request if we have no legal obligation to retain that record.
