

MoodiBoi_Art's T.O.S

★ General

- By buying something from me you are agreeing to the terms listed in this document. Please note that these terms of service are final and I hold all customers to the same standard so that both parties are treated fairly. If there is something in the terms listed that you would like to discuss, please message me and inquire! It is entirely up to the customer to make sure that they have read the TOS before commissioning. Thank you!
- Due to life, some art orders may take longer to complete. I agree to message you any/all updates regarding timeline changes or art progress updates so you can be sure you are happy with the outcome of the purchase. Normally wait times do not exceed more than 2 weeks.
- I OWN the rights to MY artwork. Don't remove my watermark from my work! You may not use the artwork for repeated money-gaining purposes or vast redistribution (selling my art on shirts, tracing the art to sell, ect! Even if you bought the art as a commission)
- I have the right to refuse any commission without giving a reason. This, however, rarely happens.
- When and if you decide to commission me, I ask you to contact me and provide me with a reference/description of your character. If there is a specific pose or facial expression let me know that as well. If there is any other information you deem helpful then include it.

- Please have your payment, in full, ready upfront. Payment plans may be privately discussed, but I have the right to refuse if I feel uncomfortable with the circumstances
- Don't rush me, I try to work in the order that I receive payment for commissions and this will vary depending on what I feel like working on THAT DAY. Usually, my sketches go in the order that I receive payment.
- If you would like an order done quickly (rushed) please let me know right away when you place your order as there may be an ADDITIONAL FEE added for rushed/express work.
- If you are commissioning me, please check my social media accounts for current works to make sure you like my style.
- I allow changes and adjustments to the pieces as I work on them. I will not do DRASTIC changes past the lineart stage! In addition, I will NOT fix art after 1-2 days of receiving the piece
- If you are commissioning me, please make sure to check your DMs frequently. I may ask questions to make the experience pleasurable for every party involved.
- At the moment I accept Paypal, Cashapp, and Venmo only in USD. If you send the wrong amount or send in the wrong currency I will request the rest of the money and you will be required to pay fees.
- When commissions are completed, I'll contact you to let you know. All digital pieces can be emailed/posted on TH! If the email you use is different from your payment email please let me know!

★What you can do with my art

- You can resell my designs for the value they were purchased as well as commissioned art and personal art.
- Please don't tokenize or make my art into an NFT (nonfungible token). This includes any blockchain-related technology, cryptocurrency, or future inventions in the space.
- Post my art anywhere with appropriate credit to me (EX. linking one of my social media accounts)
- You may use my art for PERSONAL USAGE ONLY such as print out whatever work I do for you, hang it on your wall, show it off to friends, etc.

- You may make small edits to designs (Hair style, hair color, clothing, presenting gender/sexuality) unless I specifically say otherwise. Please keep the original design on file as well!

★What you can't do with my art

- You may not sell adopts/trades/giveaway designs for a higher price or at all, unless additional art is added
- You may not claim my designs or art pieces as your own or remove/not include credit to me
- You may not make drastic edits or changes to designs I create
- You may not use my artwork to gain a profit (making copies and selling them, printing on shirts/products and selling them)
- You may not trace any commissions to create a 'base' for you or other people to color. They are not to be used to make bases for adopts, etc.
- You may not make alt pallets and sell them separately or make OCs heavily referenced off the design.
