

And I finally opened the box thinking...

What could it be?...

"Imagine opening your eyes after a looong refreshing night, feeling perfectly rested,

And just when you see the warm sun rays sneaking through the window...

A rush of goosebumping emotion covers your whole body in realization:

It's your anniversary!!!

You wake up your boyfriend peacefully laying next to you in pure excitement
–and a passionate kiss–

He immediately smiles back at you just as warmly as the yellowish light that covers the room,

And you feel the luckiest person in the world,

But the day has just started...

=

Later on, you are both chatting in your white, spaced kitchen while making breakfast.

When you suspiciously hear his gentle footsteps slowly fading away...

Strange...

But your deep feeling of happiness doesn't even let you find it awkward,

Moments later, he jumps back in

Screaming

With something in his hands,

AND IT HAS YOUR NAME ON IT!

You're almost crying –well, let's be honest, you're crying a little bit– as you hug him and tell him how much, MUCH you love him

He manly laughs and hands you the colorful box, with a warm kiss on your forehead,

You open it slowly...

With the smoothest care...

Feeling how your heartbeat rises with every movement you do, as you get closer and closer to discovering what's inside...

You're at the verge of opening the box thinking...

What could it be?...

A Teddy bear? No, too heavy...

A make-up kit? Nope, no way he knows what make-up I use... right?

You remove the last brown cardboard stuffing from the mysterious object to finally discover what's it...

=

"Ahhhhh!... Babe... I LOVE IT!"

"How did you come up with this?"

"It's so unique and so special... I'm the only woman in the world that has this..."

"haha! I'm glad to see you like it sweetie"

"Aww babe... I'm going to use it every day..."

"And every single time I use it I'm going to remember you! :D "
