Student Association Assembly Representative Letter of Intent

Anna Ginelli

As an undergraduate at Syracuse University, I think that I would greatly benefit the Student Association's General Assembly if I were to be elected as an At-Large Representative. I have strong interpersonal skills, extensive leadership experience, and forward-thinking policies that I think would further bring our student body together.

I would consider myself very compassionate, outspoken, and strategic. Compassion applies to being a representative because you must consider how the people you are representing will receive your actions. Additionally, being outspoken is vital as a representative, especially in our large university. It is important to be able to speak up when you believe something is wrong. Finally, strategy is also important to being a representative. The past year or so has been anything but predictable and being strategic and working around a crisis is what really makes an organization strong.

My experience as an assembly member and Speaker Pro Tempore of the Assembly this semester would help greatly next semester should I be elected. I am very familiar with the internal operations of the organization and SA's goals to achieve a more united campus community. I want to continue the good work I have done this semester into the next, should I get the opportunity.

I truly believe that I will contribute to the prosperity of the Student Association. I would really like to further contribute to the positive atmosphere at Syracuse University and serve as a liaison between Student Association executives and the student body. I also want to continue to focus on amplifying minority voices. I will make sure to listen to the opinions of the student body and bring these ideas to every General Assembly meeting.
