

Select your project for Week 3

For this step you need to decide what you want to build for your project and prepare a drawing for review and discussion.

Your team is not required to pick your project from your 3 ideas. It can be something totally new.

This is an easy week, but you should be committed to this project from this point forward.

Your only deliverable is an improved drawing of your project. Good drawings should help your planning phase.