

completely exhausted	the end in sight	at last a huge relief	struggling to	a sprint to the finish heart pounding	a sense of achievement	accomplished my goal pulse racing	shattered	burning lungs one foot in front of the other	covered in mud	glad to get home neck and neck	medal winning effort	elated it was over hot on my tail	collapsed with exhaustion	thumping running continuously	struggling for air	jumping out of your chest turning for the home straight	collapsed in a heap	potential a huge effort	pipped at the post	dipped across the line
