- 1.What was one thing you found out from today's lecture?
- 2.What surprised you?
- 3.Which reason do you related to?
- 4.If you could,would you consider homeschooling?

One thing I found out from today's lecture was member of homeschooling student in New Zealand is increasing before I thought small number of children in NZ are homeschooling.

Also it really surprised me that parents don't need to have teaching qualification or any other qualifications. One reason for homeschooling that I related to is parents want positive social experience for their children, For example in some schools some quiet and shy students are bullying by someone else.

If I could, I wouldn't consider homeschooling because I think the children need special education that I can't do that at home.
