Dear Parents,

RE: ySafe and SCHOOLNAME Partnership

ySafe's online safety experts have designed an innovative online safety program, which will support your student's ongoing digital development.

This ecosystem of online safety education can be delivered to students and the broader school community, via the following:

- A series of curriculum-linked lesson plans for students, which together intensively explore online safety in our digital world.
- Parent educational sessions and access to the Online Safety Hub resource.
- Evidence-based staff professional development, examining the nexus between online safety and student social and emotional wellbeing.

Who are we?

ySafe is Australia's leading provider of online safety education programs and support services. Our award-winning team of clinical psychologists, primary and secondary educators, and police officers have first-hand experience with the challenges faced by students, schools, and parents online.

Drawing on case studies and research from our respective backgrounds, we are committed to providing engaging and practical education programs that focus on the development of positive digital citizens rather than the perils of technology. But most importantly, we collaborate with students, parents, and school executives to ensure our sessions reflect #trending online behaviours, platforms, and risks.
