Post office for Mesi

Grumpy horny toad teller who's always complaining about people stealing their mail. Quest to chase off bandits in the desert who attack the caravans

Intro

A small structure is set behind several leaning palm trees. It's built of faded wood, and a small sign outside it marks it as the local post office.

Before quest completion

>Go inside

[First encounter]

Sunlight streams through the window, and dust motes dance in the still air. An elderly man stands behind a wooden counter, his round glasses sliding down his nose. He's covered in mottled yellow and brown scales, some of which come to a sharp point. A frown tugs at his wide mouth when you walk in, and he sets aside a thick tome. "How can I help you?"

Summary : Rambles in the Slablands dimension

Rambles is a butler you can rescue in the high mountains. His primary role is to make you happy.
