Yea I had a run in with Davis/Lokey around Christmas time. I had responded to his instagram story because he had asked people to ask him questions and just said "I love you ❤️" which I, of course, took as a joke so I responded, to it and asked if we were married now or something as a joke. I didn't expect a response because he has quite a bit of followers but he sent me "wanna smash?" Which I again took as a joke and basically agreed and he kept going so I kept going AS A JOKE because I've never had anyone talk to me like that before. He then asked for my snapchat which seemed innocent enough so in a moment of weakness. He then started asking for nudes and of course that's when I got very uncomfortable. He was pulling very shallow compliments and saying stuff like, "if you're my fan and you love me you'll do it" so I of course turned to do some digging on him. I found Jonathans video and blantly asked him about it. He got extremely defensive, talked about it all being false and he told me to ignore it like he had. He continued to ask and when I'd tiptoe around the situation he'd leave me on read and just restart asking me hours later. Of course, I got sick of it and eventually unadded him because it was annoying and uncomfortable. Not once did he ask for my age or ask anything personal about me. All he wanted was nudes and for me to call him daddy Lokey. It was honestly quite disturbing and it makes my skin crawl.

Obviously I entered this situation entirely blind but now that I have an understanding as to what happened in his past, it's inherently obvious that he's extremely immature and disgusting.

Jan 9

I get that he's only 16 from my understanding but that's really no excuse and it's repulsive that he tried to pull the "oh but you love me im a youtuber" shit on me because when I was like 14-15 I would have fallen for that trick. I can't imagine what he's doing to girls younger than me at all

It really feels like he's targetting that extremely vonerable age of girls that'll do anything for validation. I get told I look about 14-15 all the time so I'm assuming since he didn't know my actual age that's what he thought. It's horrifying

Discord Text: "Lokey. Lokey. Lokey. A "man" with very malicious and spiteful intentions, especially towards females. Not even an adult yet, but already doing some very illegal things. Basically, Mr. Davis Cedrez Gaming will find you some way or another, and if you're somewhat attractive he'll just beg for nudes and things of that nature (not even considering things like legality or age of the victim). Not only that but his tricks are very easy to fall for! He himself thinks he's perfect and deserves "clout". He'll even go to the extent to flexing that "[he] switched over to doing Fortnite videos first!", even though it might not be true. Leeching off and meeting other creators is also a big thing, and sometimes he'll say "do this or I won't talk to you" or "I'll let you talk to (insert big Youtuber or star he may know)". The point he takes this manipulation is insane, and will literally flirt with anyone because of how horny he is. Of course, his motive is clear, nudes/a "relationship". Adding a heart here and there and then saying oh IIL bLock yOu iF yOu don't sEnD mE sO aND sO, isn't ok. Especially, when he targets younger fans or people he doesn't know the age of. These acts not only show his true side, but some people still stick with him in hopes of meeting more "famous" people. And then once he does so, he'll use this against you when you don't want to do something he wants you to. Most of his friends tend to ignore this behavior when it takes places, and life goes on... but no one really gets true justice until we speak up and have a platform. Thanks for letting me speak a little about this :)"

Actually I have time rn (and if you don't mind I would really appreciate staying anonymous bc I'm in fear of what Davis might do) so I met Davis a couple years ago before when he had less than 100 subs and he would always tell me how he had friends who were famous like pyro, jimmy here, etc.. and it started out as a nice friendship and we talked and played a lot of games together and with other people and then slowly he started asking me for things and it started out with art and he wanted me to draw for free for him all his channel art and I told him no bc I have people willing to pay for art. (it was $5 wasn't that much anyway) he would get upset and would continuously harass me for it after that he started getting more sexual and would always say we should hook up and I told him no (bc it turned out we lived a couple hours away from each other) anyway he would always say stuff like that and I told him no multiple times and that I didn't want to at all. He would also always ask me to hang out and I said Idk if I really feel comfortable with that. After that he started asking me for fan signs and he said I didn't need to show my face and he promised if I do he would not show anybody. He told me that there needed to be cleavage in the photos tho and I told him no and I kept telling him to stop bc it made me uncomfortable and he kept harassing me so I wanted it to stop so I gave in and wore a low cut shirt and sent it and he ended up going around in other discord's sending that photo around and telling people I was basically his bitch and I would do fan signs and other things for other people and after that we didn't talk for a while and it made me feel really bad about myself after that he would still add me in calls asking for favors and I would always say no and he would try to get me to do stuff for other people and he knows I like pyrocynical and he would always ask for sex and said he would get me in a call with pyro if I agreed and I kept saying no but he kept persisting and I would keep saying no and he would just get annoyed with me and he still adds me to calls out of the blue asking for things and he thinks we are still best friends or something. At one point about 2 months ago he added me to a call and asked me to be his e girl and I said no and he added me to his discord server and I was put under the role name in the server as "Lokeys girlfriend" which made me feel uncomfortable and I didn't want to be that in the server and the last time he added me to a call was 3 weeks ago and he said he would pay me money for sex and I told him no and I didn't feel comfortable and he kept begging so I left the call and I haven't talked to him since

I just wanted to say thank you for making a video on Davis, he's super manipulative and uses people for whatever gain he can. I met him around late 2017 aswell, around that time he had asked me for nudes, I wouldve been 14 at the time. He used my friend killing himself in August for sympathy even though said friend hated Davis' guts and was only talking to him to get some money back that I had loaned to Davis because he had begged me to buy him a game. Davis is a disgusting person and I hope one day we can finally rid of him.

Jan 21

Oh and a quick add on, when he was talking to my friend about trying to get my money back. he had sent this friend nudes of another girl saying that it was me. it wasn't even convincing but he had sent my friend of someone else's nudes just to try and say that he got some from me.

Hi, I just saw your video on Davis and I feel like it's right for me to share my experience with him;

Jan 21

I've known him since around September 2017 through other friends in discord. It was mainly group calls at first but then he'd call me individually and almost straight away, almost every time, he'd say 'let me add this e-girl I bet you could get nudes from her'

So of course my reaction was something along the lines of 'uh no? I'm good?'

Jan 21

Regardless 8/10 he'd end up adding them anyway and say 'I wanted to talk to you' and mute his mic. Which put me on the spot, made me very uncomfortable and due to my anxiety would make me freak out a little bit until I apologised and sat in silence waiting for him to say something

Jan 21

I'm guessing his plan was for me to get nudes from the girl and send to him, which seems insane but after hearing everything else he's done, I believe it

Anyway, once a girl would leave the call he'd add another or sometimes he'd actually have a normal conversation with me

Jan 21

He once asked me to do a fan sign for him and hold it in front of my face because "I looked like lil xan." So I was like 'sure whatever, it'll be funny I guess??' So I did it and he put it on his Snapchat story, and then told me about how girls were messaging him and he was planning on telling them "if they sent him nudes they could talk to lil xan."

Jan 21

I don't know whether anyone did message him about that or whether he was just trying to big himself up to me for some reason, but if it was true then surely that shows how impressionable his fanbase is

Jan 21

On top of that, one time he called me and said 'hey [redacted] I used pictures of you to get nudes from a girl' which blew my mind. He never once brought up the idea of that to me. I'm guessing because he knew that if he mentioned it to me I would've said no

Jan 21

But nonetheless, he said he'd taken pictures from my instagram, told girls that those pictures were him, and received nudes from the girls (obviously without my consent). And at the time (around November/December 2017) I was 18, meaning if any of the girls he had received nudes from using my pictures had been underage, it could've made things bad for me when I had no idea it was even happening

That's about it anyway, I just felt I could shed some light on the other things he's done
