

From The Basement
Episode #181 “Uncle Bill”
August 2022

I almost don't want to let this one go, just like none of us wanted to let Uncle Bill go. A wonderful Human in every possible way, William Peters was a very spiritual, principled and kind man. He possessed the ability to be a source of calm in the midst of any sort of turbulence. While he was a Deacon and very religious man, for him it was not a political statement or means to an end, it was simply the way he was constructed. I'm pretty sure the mold used for Uncle Bill 88 years ago is out of circulation or at best very sparingly utilized, at least in the last few decades. As recently as the overturn of “Roe” he and I had a long talk and were in complete agreement about how wrong it was and he said, “All they want to do is control women, they don't care about nurturing and taking care of the child after they are born.” Married to my Aunt Connie for 68 years, they are as in love today as the very first day they met. I miss him already.

This episode is a twisting path musically with turns aplenty but is all in his honor, even though some of the stuff I'm sure he wouldn't care for, he wouldn't let that stop his enjoyment of the rest. We all can't like the same things, it would make life pretty boring. I'm just a bit miffed that I didn't discover his love of “real” Country music until recently, allowing me to give him a new nickname. So Tex, this one's for you with all our love and respect. We'll Meet Again.
