

Vivian Von Vixen and the Vast Beyond
Open casting call

Project- audio drama, sci-fi adventure, in the style of old ray gun and rocket ship shows in the 1950-70s. Buck rogers and Flash Gordon.

Set in an alternate 1950s.

The show is a project Created by Tucker Maltby.

As of now we are still in a production process trying to create a back log of episodes. So none have been released

This is a hobby project, and as such, it is unpaid.

About Recording

1. As much as possible recordings will be done together, rather than asynchronously. We'll be asking you for your schedule of availability, so we can coordinate recording dates. (Smaller parts with a few lines may be able to record independently, if scheduling becomes too difficult)
2. To ensure audio quality across the board, we ask that all who are auditioning have reliable access to either a USB or XLR microphone. Phones, gaming headsets, and built-in computer mics tend not to provide the necessary caliber of audio for a project like this
3. As we do a great deal of communicating via Discord, please be willing to join the server for the show while your episode is being cast and recorded to arrange scheduling, and so on.

About Auditioning

1. There is a google form with a place to attach your auditions.
2. You are encouraged to audition for multiple parts! But you will need to fill out the form once per part that you submit for.
3. Select the character you are auditioning for, and attach the file of your audition for that character.
4. Include up to 2 takes for each line. Please group these together by take. (ABC and ABC, not AABBBCC)
5. Begin each recording with your name and the character you're auditioning for.
6. Upload audition recordings as wav, and name your files with your name & character name. (mp3 files will be accepted but are not preferred)
7. Each character description includes the pronouns that they use, and any other necessary gender information, including whether or not it is able to be changed. If they do not have Pronouns none have been assigned. You're welcome to audition for the parts you feel comfortable playing. (Cisgender actors are asked to please not audition for parts specified as transgender or non-binary.)
8. Some character descriptions include preferences regarding age, race, or accent. Please take note of these when auditioning, but unless otherwise specified in the description, these are just preferences. Please audition anyway. We go into casting with open minds.
9. Please use the setup you'd be recording on for the show to do your audition.

Roles-

Professor Garbin Grix

- main cast role/ recurring, older grandpa/grandma aged person, grew up on an alien world where everyone is mean. But they are indeed nice. But is sometimes grumpy

Lines-

- Mayday, mayday, my fuel pump has ruptured. Need immediate rescue.
- Relinquish your ship now, inferiors! A greater being requires it!
- Don't you patronize me! I'll do it...Oh who am I kidding...I can't do it.
- If they could see me back home. I'd be thrown in jail for handing over my weapon. But I just can't hurt people!

Business person (evil)

- possibly recurring, does business, is evil.

Lines-

- I'd like one more opportunity for you to reconsider the terms of your contract. They are too restricting! The board and I feel that you aren't considering the company's future.
- But doctor. We on the board feel that we should at least be able to license or continue to develop some of your existing patents and technologies.

Evil space ship pilot

- possibly recurring, standard evil henchmen.

Lines-

- Attention unknown craft. You will release Professor Grix now and your deaths will be quick. Otherwise we will be forced to make them slow.
- By refusing to surrender you have admitted guilt in the eyes of the empire. Preparing torture rays at maximum pain output.

President of the United States

- not recurring, very presidential. He/Him

Lines

- Thank you, everyone. Ladies, Gentlemen, business leaders, we are all gathered today on the momentous occasion to see Dr. Vixens excellent machine make history. Its thanks to her and her thriving aerospace business VixCo that the US has been put on the map as the world leaders of this field. I'd heard of Dr. Vixen's incredible work around the globe.

Classmate

- not recurring, looking for 2 of these, should be excited teenage sounding.

Lines

- can't believe you are going to outer space!
- By the time you get back we'll be graduated.
- Aren't you going to miss earth?

Mission Control operator

- not recurring, very official,

Lines

- We are green to go on our side, Ma'am. Waiting for you count to begin lift off.
- Everyone here in the tower thanks you for your trust, val. Commence the count whenever you are ready.
