SideQuest is an app that allows you to upload VR applications from your computer (PC or Mac) to your Quest Headset.

Download SideQuest here and install it on your computer sidequestvr.com/setup-howto

On their site, SideQuest provides a guide and video tutorials to install SideQuest and connect your Quest to SideQuest (it needs to be connected via a cable to your computer and you need to activate Developer Mode on your Oculus account). Here is a list of manuals of how to sideload apps to your Quest headset.

We know it is much work! But it is worth it.

You will be able to experience inspiring VR Art on your Quest, and you can check out many other experiences from SideQuest's platform.

Find and buy new VR experiences via your Radiance web account

Use your computer browser and go to RadianceVR.app and login with your account details. Scroll down at the front page and you will find the catalog with our awesome VR experiences.

By clicking on them you can find more information about each work and you have the possibility to rent a work for 48 hours by paying via PayPal.

Example:

When you click on "Rent via PayPal", a pop-up will guide you to PayPal where you can login with your account and finalise the transaction.

Once you have paid for the work, you will be able to access it in your headset. Once you click on it, the 48 hour rental period starts. After the period ends after 48 hours, you won't be able to see the work anymore and would have to rent it anew.

Please let us know if any problems occur.

Write us an email from the email address you use for your Radiance account at contact@radiancevr.co or use this form. We will help you.
