Late Work Policy: Students are expected to turn in work as assigned on time. They can view all assignments in the Google classroom including due dates. Work will be accepted if turned in late, but partial credit may be given depending on the lateness, quality, and completeness of the assignment. If any work is turned in late to the teacher, it is the student's responsibility to notify the teacher that the work has been completed and turned in late. This should be done via email - JeanL@Leeschools.net.

Makeup Work Policy: Should a student miss class, it is the responsibility of the student to find out what work and assignments were missed and make them up. This may include contacting a classmate, asking/emailing the teacher, or viewing the Google classroom on the Chromebook. The student will be expected to make up the work in a reasonable time frame. When a student finishes and turns in/submits any makeup work, he or she MUST directly notify the teacher by email so that it can be graded in a timely manner.
