

Hey, Mrs. Nicole,

I was checking out your YouTube profile, and I'm really impressed by how much value you give to your audience for free. Respect for that!

Have you considered launching a low-ticket product?

This type of low-priced product can help you make more money while not requiring a lot of time to create.

If you want to discuss this idea, you can just send me a quick reply, and I'll give you more info about the idea.

Talk to you soon.

Hey, Nicole

I was checking out your YouTube profile, and saw that you don't sell low ticket products such as courses.

Have you considered launching a course about people who want to do yoga at home?

Because of your massive audience and lower price this course would lead to a lot of more profit than what you have now.

If you want to discuss this idea, you can just send me a quick reply, and I will give you more info about the idea.

Talk to you soon.
