PARTICIPATION OPPORTUNITY STUDY – WINTER SPORTS 2015-16

NOTE: Title IX states that a school may provide participation opportunities for girls, as the underrepresented sex in sports, that are substantially proportionate to their respective rate of enrollment in the school. The rates of participation of girls and boys in the athletic program should be substantially proportionate to their respective rates of enrollment. For example, if girls make up 48% of the student body and boys make up 52% of the student body, then 48% of the athletic participants should be girls and 52% should be boys.

INSTRUCTION: Please determine the total number of participants in each team and total these amounts using the current school- year figures reported to CIF. Then determine the proportion of athletes that are girls and the proportion of athletes that are boys. For example: if there are 185 girl athletes and 160 boy athletes, the total number of athletes is 345. Thus, the percentage of girl athletes equals 185/345 or approximately 54%.
