We understand and agree that, as per WJC's publication policy, no changes to author details - including affiliations and email addresses - can be made after the paper has been accepted and checked (proofreading process) for publication. Once accepted, any request to add or remove authors, change the order of authors, or alter affiliations will not be entertained, as such changes compromise the integrity and transparency of the publication process. This policy applies at all stages after acceptance - including during draft invoice issuance, official tax invoice issuance, and even after APC payment. If such changes are insisted upon, the paper will be withdrawn from the publication process, and you will be obliged to pay the additional 50% of the Article Processing Charge (APC), on top of the APC which has already been paid, as specified in the invoice issued.
