

Article manuscript title (Capitalize first letter, TNR 16 pt)
the subtitle of the article manuscript (optional)

Surname, Last name^{1,*} Surname, Last name² (TNR 13 pt)

¹ Enter Author Affiliation 1

² Enter Author Affiliation 2

*Corresponding author: Email: author@example.com

Narrative Summary

Insert the narrative summary of the article here (TNR, 12 pt).

Keywords: Insert relevant and related keywords here (TNR, 8pt)

1. Introduction

(TNR, 12 pt and section heading are written in bold) In this section, the authors need to include an overview of the main problem that the authors address. Authors need to explain why this study matters and worth conducting and read by the readers.

Use a bulleted list for related information and should look like this:

- First point
- Second point
- Third point
- Etc.

2. Main Text (The title can be replaced with a related topic mentioned in the article)

Authors can arrange the sub-section in the main text section and can be written in various ways. The author is required to cover certain information below:

- The focus and well define raised issues or problems.
- A summary of previous investigations to assist readers in understanding the current state of the research or article.
- The information clarifies (also identifies) the relations, contradictions, gaps, and inconsistencies.
- Recommend or propose the next step in solving the highlighted issues or problems.

2.1. Second Level Heading

The second level heading of the introduction is written in italic and use TNR 12pt. This section is optional for the authors.

2.2. Article manuscript length

The main text (introduction, method, result, discussion, and conclusion) is written in no more than 8000 words. The authors are required to write the manuscript concisely and easily to understand for the readers.

3. Conclusions

This section highlights the summary of your study which concludes the problem you bring up and the result of your study.

Reference

In the reference section, information regarding the author, date, title, and source of the work needs to be listed continuously (examples are written below).

Abirama, N., & Muhammad, M. (2022). The discrepancy between the ideal self and actual self in an adolescent at the marginal area. Social Psychology, 79(8), 1928-1935.
<https://doi.org/11.1017/dev00000779>