Available busses are full, and the district continues to look for additional bus drivers. Back to School night went well. Mr. Zimmerman asked for committee feedback and members discussed having more signage available to show parents/students where to go. It was also discussed to have students available at future Back to School nights to assist people/students in finding their way around. Dress code was discussed, and crop tops at school are becoming an issue. The current rule states if you can see the stomach the student is considered out of dress code. Administration wants to assure Cimarron remains a learning environment which means dress code must be adhered to since they could potentially cause student distraction. At the next SAC meeting, members will review the current dress code and make recommended updates. If dress code language is updated, members will vote to refine the current policy. The dress code will be added to a future Colts Chronical. Administration will be sending out a survey to students regarding mental health. This is part of the framework for the Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) through the Colorado Department of Education. Students will be provided with a lesson on the survey during advisement before it is sent out. Once results are in, Group Counselors will provide guidance on next steps. The Counseling Department is currently providing support for students with stress and anxiety and executive functioning and students are provided support until it is no longer needed. During discussion, members asked about the Safe2tell data to see when that will be reported. Mr. Zimmerman agreed he work on accessing that data to share with the committee. Cimarron continues to search for additional math support for students and they are actively looking for a math teacher. There is math support for students in the library after school on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The budget will also allow for additional tutoring for students who have Ds, Us, or Is in Math. Administration is looking for teachers who are interested in tutoring positions.
