Locker Room Use

A quick reminder that the locker rooms are for using the restroom and changing only. We have been asked by the park district pool management to make sure our swimmers are respectful of all the facilities and especially the locker rooms. There have been some recent incidents where the locker rooms were left very messy. While the park district did not indicate it was our swimmers that left the mess we want to make sure it is not our swimmers leaving any messes in the facilities as we do not want to lose the privilege of using the pools.. Please remind your swimmer(s) to use the facilities as intended. Thank you.

Reminder - Coach Jeff Out of Town May 9-19

Coach Jeff will be out of town from May 9-19. He will still be available by email for any questions and/or concerns. Our Springfield site will continue to have practice during this time which will be led by our other coaches.

Reminder - Importance of Practice Attendance

It is the time of year when everyone's schedules get very busy with spring sports, school activities and other happenings. With that the coaches want to emphasize the importance of consistent practice attendance each week. Our experience shows us that consistent attendance at practice is the number factor in our swimmers' improvement. There are many reasons for this.

For our younger swimmers they are learning good practice skills and habits. Each time they attend practice they either learn new skills or the previously learned skills are reinforced. When they miss for extended stretches they often fall back and have to re-learn those skills/habits. We often see much poorer practice performance when our younger swimmers miss extended periods.

For our middle and more advanced swimmers the coaches plan the week and months before us and design the workouts accordingly. The planned program of physical development includes programmed physical stress and recovery times.

Progress can only be made by the athlete by imposing a previously unexperienced stress on the body system. The body will then adapt to this stress, if provided the appropriate degree and timing of recovery.

The stresses applied can be in the form of speed, distance swum, or "density" of workout. (yards per time period.) Stress can also be specifically applied in accordance with energy systems. A quality swimming program will mix the stresses in appropriate quantities and types for the group of athletes, and thus the individuals, being trained. The "mix" will be different for different groups and individuals, based on their previous training.

Thus, attendance at workout is a CRITICAL feature in making physical progress in the program. When an athlete misses a workout, they upset the balance of "how much of what" stresses they apply to their body. In worst cases, athletes attend the recovery workouts, and miss the stressful workouts and thus never apply increasing stress to their systems.

To make it easier for our families we suggest you develop a weekly practice schedule. This assists both the parents and the swimmers to know they have practice on a given day and it eliminates the discussion of whether they are going that day. If you have to miss a practice try to attend on another day.

When planning your schedule try not to leave big gaps between days your swimmer will attend. Try not to miss "just because" - something will inevitably come up later in the week that may cause another missed practice. If your swimmers does miss an extended period try to get back on track with your planned schedule as soon as possible

While we do not have practice attendance requirements for most of our practice groups we do have suggested minimums which we feel best help the swimmers to show continuous improvement. These recommendations are listed below by each practice group. Factors such as age, goals, commitment etc will also play a role in your weekly attendance. Remember, these are suggestions we feel will help best benefit your swimmer.

Daily Suggested Minimum Practice Attendance by Practice Group

- Little Raiders - 2 times per week
- Buccaneers - 2-3 times per week (depending on age)
- Pirates - 3 times per week
- Silver - 3-5 times per week (depending on age)
- Red- 4-6 times per week (depending on age and goals)

If you have any questions about the above or your child's attendance please feel free to speak with Coach Jeff.
