When you say "team" who are you talking about if we are working mostly "alone"? Also, didn't we do some project scoping when we put in the application? Or how is this different from the application process?

12:17:15 From JördisW (Treaty 7) to Everyone:

Team here is an evolutionary term. We are hoping that as you move through stage 1, you can build your team and discuss roles with those already on and joining in the process.

12:17:16 From Millie Gonzalez (she/her) to Everyone:

Vanessa, remember you are part of the ROTEL team so you have others that will help you through this process. For example, Marilyn Billings.

12:17:26 From Barbaras iPhone to Everyone:

You should have support, as you mentioned Sean is part of it, instructional designer, me

12:18:22 From JördisW (Treaty 7) to Everyone:

Vanessa, please consider pulling in everybody in this cohort and/ or the Wed cohort to ask for specific feedback.

12:18:38 From Vanessa Martínez to Everyone:

Ok, thank you all.

12:23:08 From JördisW (Treaty 7) to Everyone:

You can find the current team members listed for each project here:

<https://www.rebus.community/t/about-the-july-2022-m-1-cohort/7417>. Our session 4 will invite you to further define your team members' roles and responsibilities depending on your unique project needs.

12:23:22 From Marilyn Billings to Everyone:

We will write up my role and other supporters for faculty. Also, we'll put in the folks available at each institution as well.

12:28:24 From JördisW (Treaty 7) to Everyone:

You will also have a public project space that you can easily share with internal/ external people. There are instructions for how to access it today.

12:30:29 From Vanessa Martínez to Everyone:

@Yvonne, a lot of my work is focused on health equity so if you want another set of eyes on that, feel free to reach out.

12:44:00 From Marilyn Billings to Everyone:

I like the writing and Publishing in a Digital Environment - nicely scoped with details on content, intended audience, timeline, licensing, the team and how to reach them - all done fairly briefly.

12:47:17 From Millie Gonzalez (she,her) to Everyone:

Just to clarify, each have you have your build in team like I explained before. You don't need to recruit anyone to be part of your team.

12:48:53 From Marilyn Billings to Everyone:

and for the overview, you can use content from your application.

12:51:46 From Marilyn Billings to Everyone:

For some faculty, it can take longer, depending on scope and any previously written content.

12:54:31 From Millie Gonzalez (she,her) to Everyone:

Because of the timeline of the grant, each project is expected to complete their book so that it is ready to be used in their class (the grant has a separate assessment once it is used in the classroom.)

12:54:33 From Marilyn Billings to Everyone:

There are several supporters on the ROTEL team have expertise with licenses, plus we'll have more discussion about this topic during a later meeting.
