

okay i was going to do this after i rebuilt my keyboard and i still might stop and do that in the middle bc this fucking membrane piece of shit pisses me off actually i am going to do that hold on give meidk half an hour okay im back that took like an hour look how cute my keyboard is thoughhhh dont ask me how much ive spent on t his piece of shit. whatever.

okay i can talk about my stupid piece of shit exo now this is like a stream of consciousness typing thing so its gonna read like im talking into my phone or whatever even though im not pressing buttons with my fingers. have fun so basically what came into my brain last night and ive bneen going insane over this whole time is like okay i have to start at the beginning here . btw im doing this in google docs so i can type really fast and write way way too much bc im just throwing up my thoughts everywhere and still have it be readable i already know this is gonna be a lot okay we are starting at the beginning for context . okay. so when ari and jeds marriage was like falling apart you know and theyre pushing each other away the way that was happening and ive talked about it before but jed is doing all this stupid illegal dangerous shit and you know keeping secrets from ari that he keeps catching her in and all this bs and aris response was like he got scared basically and he hid from it. stupid idiot burying his head in the sand to hide from how he felt about the situation instead of trying to do something about it so he just like spent all h is time in its lab doing work and research and trying not to think about what jeds doing bc it upset him. and like jeds doing stupid shit to get aris attention and ari is interpreting it as him pushing it away and its just kind of spiralling bc neither of them are communicating and like ive talked to benji about it and virgil is like rightfully fucking worried about jed like you know my brother is going off the deep end. and his brother in law his bestie jeds spouse is just kind of letting it happen and actually pulling back which is enabling and almost forcing jed to do more and more stupid shit and virgil sees this and hes like what the fuck man and the image i had in my head really is this like direct parallel bc you know jeds really clingy right now hes really needy and i honestly think ari is pulling some of that avoidance bullshit again but its for the opposite reason now like instead of it being you know im scared that jed is pushing me away im worried about losing her and im not gonna face that its the opposite its he doesnt want to get close to her he doesnt want to like open up and let her back in only for everything to go to shit again bc i think that would tear him apart and the thought of it genuinely terrifies him so with the flody lab shit like yeah he is kind of hiding from jed and hes doing better with it i mean they are talking and i think to a point having some space from her is good for it to be able to work out its feelings and process some shit without jed all over him all the time which was kind of freaking him out and i feel like could have made him try to push her away again for like both of their sakes (in his brain its for both of their sakes this would have been bad and sucked for both of them) but like they are talking theyre texting and ari is calling her and letting jed watch whats happening in the lab you know but this image i have in my mind where ari has his phone you know its on vibrate in his pocket and its blowing up bc little heeby jeeby misses his ari and wants to talk to him and i want to take aris brain and say hey you know suddenly hes not in his lab at his desk on his terminal well hes still there but hes not there with fletcher and cody. hes there on its own and its not jed blowing up its phone its virgil and its this kind of moment of realisation i think for ari where its seeing this direct parallel in its life its like a flashback and like this isnt something ive gone into much but when ari gets overwhelmed by emotion he kind of just freezes the fuck up like completely stops moving while it processes it and its like its this kind of embarrassing thing for it bc its an entirely involuntary and very visible response to his feelings and you know its kind of a tell if you know him. and i want him to be sitting at the desk and in my mind his phone is going off and he just like stops typing and goes in side his own brain and fletcher in my head hes like hey wait whats going on. are you asleep are you thinking are you dead why arent you moving type shit and the little ari in my head once hes processed his fuciking Ohmy God i abandoned my jeddy when shes at her most vulnerable AGAIN moment in his head hes like he starts moving again and ic an only see him at this point being like hey fletcher. take cody and get the fuck out of my fucking house slash ship ill call you when i want you back in. and this is probably gonna freak fletcher out a bit bc ari is not saying why or where hes going and cody is Maybe Dying like this is in my brain where cody is mostly functional as a person but kind of still fucked up like its definitely after ari stopped fucking around and started actually going autism mania mode on this shit but you know fletcher doesnt know when aris gonna let them back in and idk what his response here would be but ari needs his space so he can have a little messy bitch moment. and im playing around im like pushing him back into old patterns bc its fun im having fun with it and like i was talking last night about how hes hinging a lot of his self worth on this project by now so thats making it more unstable and volatile and this was kidn of the Last Straw in his Miserable Life like oh my god fletcher and cody get out of my house i need to think about what a piece of shit i am and the way i envision hiis meltdowns in my head is hes kind of very outwardly destructive. and he doesnt wreck the lab bc the lab is his baby and hes not stupid enough to you know smash up all his bottles of radiolaria and shit thatd be sooooo dangerous but he does wreck his living space which is kind of combination lounge and open plan kitchen and then the bedroom. so hes like throwing books everywhere and lying on the floor and just kind of i see him wrecking shit and making a huge mess and then going catatonic for idk 18 hours or something just sitting there.

and i feel like this would worry jed as well bc hes fuckin hes been keeping in touch but hes not answering messages now which is kind of an ironic and stupid response to panicking about abandoning him but you know the human brain isnt a rational beast and hes having issues. so once he comes out of that like self hating catatonia thing hes got going on i think it would go to venus its like oh god i have to go to venus but then i see and the other part of aris usual breakdown pattern that i see in my head is hes just like hes projecting that self destruction outwards and i think a lot of the time he just goes and finds somewhere theres a ton of vex and just kills them for ages just like i need to crush living metal right now or im gonna explode i have to keep moving or i'll start hating myself again like hes getting it out of his system. and i see him going to venus to find jeddy or whatever but hes still fucked in the head and has to take a bit of time first to just go and you know shoot up some goblins or whatever . hes normal but then he definitely is gonna visit jed and in my head i see this whole thing lasting maybe a week hes having his little moment and then he you know hes talked to jed he gets back in its ship and its calling fletcher up like hey man im completely normal. bring ur exo back over here rn idk im just having fun bc healing isnt linear and ari is healing from these sort of centuries of fighting and this really sort of volatile mental state he had at the time and i was like oh my god i have to give him a Moment here hes gotta have a fuckign you know hes got a lot going on.

and i didnt get into but i think a lot of the self hatred thing as well is like not only is he hiding from jed who is vulnerable and needing him btu its hiding from her by saving the life of someone who nearly killed her. and its like okay well damn! what the f uck am i doing actually.

jesus christ i wrote so much and it barely even goes any where what ever okay one more thing and then im done its just about how like ari is definitely manic while hes autism mode over cody like its something im wiring into his brain he has manic episodes and from my experience of them its likeeeee a lot of people read them as just an upper or whatever but its more like heightened emotion in general like hes just off the rails bc hes so excited and invested about this project but thats also gonna manifest as this instability which is obviously making this hit way worse than it would have if he was just being normal never mind im back i kept thinking and i want to peel ari some more hes like its so fun bc hes so obsessed with self control and self management and being like completely on top of how he presents himself and how its perceived by other people and i talk about this sometimes but jed is like his weakness in that regard like bc he makes it feel emotions that it CANT control and jeds like the only person hes letting really have that impact on his life. and again its this internal conflict he has btwn his humanity and his need for detachment and control and bringing jed back into the picture like this has really thrown it off like its tripping up over the fact that like oh god you know its scary !! things are new and scary and its still having this autism moment where it hasnt really processed that Everythings Changed or like it has but its refusing to accept it. and it wants everything to have changed permanently but its scared and its so fun talking about ari being scared bc it doesnt get frightened by many things the tiny ari in mybrain is so mad at me for this btw bc it makes it look so pathetic and funny hes like shaking his little fist at me im back again wait apparently my mic was delivered i think amazon is lying to me bc i didnt hear anything . okay well anyway i just wanted to add that i think this is where im placing that really fucking cute pic benji did on the jedari timeline hold on let me get it
