GUIDE TO SPANISH LEVELS AT SIS

HOW WE PLACE YOU:

You will select your Spanish course without the need for a placement test. During registration, it is recommended that you self-identify your level using the guidelines provided in the course dropdown list. Once the course begins, Expanish school professors will evaluate your Spanish level during the initial days of class. If they deem a class change necessary, they will notify the academic department, and these changes will be accommodated. If you feel uncomfortable with your assigned level you should speak directly with your professor during the add-drop period.

Important: The number of classes and levels made available will depend on the number of students that register for courses. We cannot guarantee a course that exactly fits your needs, although we will do our best to place you at a level that will benefit you the most.

HOW CREDITS TRANSFER:

We follow the Spanish level system (A1, A2, B1, B2, C1, C2) for language learning. The equivalents of these courses can be found below, and the US course code used by our partner school Jacksonville University in the us.

Exact course levels can be difficult to transfer into the US system. For example, Spanish 201 in your home university may cover different topics than Spanish B1, or you may find that Spanish 101 and 102 at your home school add up to a A1 level in Spain, so you could place into A2 even after completing Spanish 102 at home. If you have any doubts, you should share the syllabus for your course with your home school registrar and Spanish department to ensure that what is imported to your home transcript reflects the coursework.

IF YOU NEED A SPECIFIC LEVEL

If you need a specific course for credit, please let us know as early as possible. We always recommend you take the level you are placed into, but the decision is ultimately up to you and you can jump up to the level you need (if it is provided). We warn you that you may feel overwhelmed and may not pass the class.

SELF IDENTIFYING YOUR LEVEL AT START OF A COURSE

A rough guideline of Spanish level needed to start a course:

- A1 Elementary Spanish Language and Culture (101) - True beginner, no knowledge
- A1.2 Elementary Spanish Language and Culture (101) - Beginner with some basic knowledge, some vocab such as greetings
- A2 Upper Elementary Spanish Language and Culture (102) - Prerequisite: Can produce simple sentences in present tense, ask and answer questions
- B1 Intermediate Spanish Language and Culture (201) - Prerequisite: Can describe personal experiences in the past tense, explain likes and dislikes
- B2 Upper Intermediate Spanish Language and Culture (202) - Prerequisite: Can give detailed accounts of past events, explain clear instructions to others
