

ACSI Principal Certification

Students who complete the Masters of Science in Educational Leadership and Administration (MS in ELA) may apply for principal certification through the Association of Christian Schools International (ACSI). After successfully finishing all MS in ELA course work, the candidate can submit an application through the ACSI website.

Certification from ACSI gives credence to an individual's continued commitment to excellence and professional learning. Due to the School of Education's status as a Higher Education Approved Program (HEAP), the cost to apply is waived.

For more information about ACSI Principal Certification requirements, please review the Principal Certification Requirements on ACSI's website or contact the School of Education Certification Officer.
