Screen2

SeaLion -Our ocean has been polluted ever since the late, late 1960s and early 1970s,as of recent time, it has taken a lot more greater effects on us.= { This has destroyed our habitats and our homes are now dangerous for us to live in.

Screen3 (Images)

Many marine animals get entangled in or ingest plastic debris, causing suffocation, starvation, and drowning. Plastic pollution kills 100,000 marine mammals every year. 81 out of 123 marine mammal species are known to have eaten or been entangled in plastic, and all seven sea turtle species are affected.
