Learning English is not an easy but a very useful occupation.

Today English language is especially important because it helps people in their work, in their travelling or in their hobbies and activities. I have never been in England, but I'm very eager to visit this great country and to speak with local people there. I also hope that English will help me to become an educated person and a good expert.

Great German poet Goethe once told: "The one, who doesn't know any foreign language, doesn't know own".

I completely agree with his statement and in the future I certainly learn some more languages in addition to English.
