

SESSION 7 HOMEWORK

YOUR TEXTUAL LINEAGE—WHICH BOOK MATTERS THE MOST?

Readers, today in class you thought hard about themes and life lessons in books, and you reflected on the books that have mattered most to you. If you didn't get a chance to finish your textual lineage (the books that you most remember, and why they matter to you), finish that tonight for homework. If you did, think about which book matters absolutely the most to you, and jot a quick entry about why that book—why does that one matter to you? Was it the life lessons you learned? You might write a notebook entry, or even a letter, about the book.
