      Streetlights in Los Angeles are funded through a property-based streetlighting assessment that has not been updated since 1996 due to a state requirement that any increase be approved by a citywide ballot. Because raising the assessment carries political risk, the City has avoided doing so for decades.

      As costs increased over time, the City covered the gap by subsidizing streetlighting from the General Fund—the same pool of money used for essential services like police, fire, and street cleaning. Repeated budget cuts during recessions, including the elimination of pole replacement funding, were never restored. As a result, much of the streetlight infrastructure—some of it nearly 100 years old—has significantly deteriorated. This aging infrastructure now accounts for about 60% of current streetlight outages.

The remaining 40% of outages are due to vandalism and copper wire theft, which has surged as copper prices increased. Incidents rose from just nine in 2006 to roughly 4,500 in 2021, contributing to tens of thousands of service requests citywide.

Temporary federal relief funds helped mask the problem in recent years, but those funds are no longer available. At the same time, the City faces major financial pressures and no longer has the capacity to subsidize streetlighting from the General Fund.

As a result, increasing the streetlighting assessment to match actual costs is the only viable long-term solution. In the short term, the City is prioritizing repairs in the most affected and dangerous areas and using limited discretionary funds for overtime work to address critical outages.

vi. Los Angeles Police Department – Commanding Officer Captain Manuel Chavez, Sergeant Garret Colley, and Senior Lead Officer Joseph Raviol

Crime trends in the community are generally improving. Compared to last year, reported rapes are down 46% (8 this year compared to 15 last year), and robberies are down 22% (21 in 2025 versus 27 in 2024). Burglaries are down significantly—31%, dropping from 152 incidents in 2024 to 104 in 2025. Overall, violent crime is down 6.7% in the area.

Aggravated assaults are up, though many of these incidents involve domestic disputes. Thefts, including package theft and vehicle-related theft, have increased slightly, with 174 reported thefts in 2025, about 6% higher than 2024. Residents are strongly encouraged to continue reporting these crimes, as reporting helps police identify patterns and suspects. Recent arrests have been made possible because residents provided videos and photos.

The department believes that having more officers directly contributes to community safety, and current leadership supports that approach.

Party houses remain an issue, particularly in the Hollywood Hills, though the problem has improved compared to previous years. Residents are urged to report party houses as they are happening, using the non-emergency number rather than waiting days to report them. If residents feel safe, videos can help officers issue administrative citations and work with the City Attorney's Office to hold property owners accountable. Additional funding from a council office helps provide extra officers—sometimes two to four—specifically to address party house enforcement.

Residents may experience delays in response times due to staffing limitations, but reporting still matters. Even when officers cannot respond immediately, reports help police track trends, deploy patrols more effectively, and focus enforcement in problem areas.

For emergencies, residents should always call 911. For non-emergency crimes like package theft or vandalism, online reporting is encouraged. These reports take about 10–15 minutes, help with insurance claims, and provide critical data that guides patrol deployment.

The department emphasizes its partnership with the community and encourages residents to continue sharing concerns, reporting issues, and communicating with officers to help keep the neighborhood safe.

2026 Outpost Neighborhood Association (ONA) Board Elections

The ONA Officers and Directors (the “Board”) is comprised of unpaid volunteers that are residents of Outpost Estates. The ONA Board is made up of 7 people: four Officers (President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer) and three Directors that volunteer to Chair or Co-Chair various Committees, or support ONA in other ways.

The ONA Board is elected for a one year term each January at the in-person ONA Annual Meeting by current ONA supporters. Once the 7 Board of Directors are elected at the ONA Annual Meeting, the Board of Directors then vote on which of the 7 Board of Directors will serve as the four Officers (President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer) for the one year term.

There were 7 residents that applied to be on the ONA Board in 2026. Unless there is a request to perform a “roll call” vote to ensure each Board member receives a majority of votes, the current President will ask for a unanimous consent to elect the 7 resident applicants to the ONA Board in 2026.

If a “roll call” vote is requested, please use this electronic ballot to select the 7 individuals you would like to be on the ONA Board in 2026. Candidates are listed in alphabetical order by last name.

As a reminder, per the Outpost Neighborhood Association (ONA) Election Procedures, only "Current ONA Supporters" (those that have made a donation to ONA in the past 12 months) are eligible to vote, all votes must occur in person at the ONA January Meeting, and no proxy voting is allowed. Candidates for the Board must be present to win.

If a “roll call” vote is requested, please submit your ballot using your phone by going to this website or scanning the QR code below:
