

Your Family History in an Object

15 Points

Take on the role of an historical detective and discover the story behind an historical object your family holds dear. Make sure the object is more than 25 years old and is able to reveal a story that is connected with at least one family member. Write a one page explanation of the object's importance. Consider triangulating your research to relate a more accurate account of the item's history and the prestige to which your family ascribes to it.

Material Witness. Required Reading